

The Easter Bunny is busy. Tomorrow is Easter! In about an hour, the Easter Bunny will leave for his present hunt. He has one night to visit all the homes.

There's so much left to do! Luckily, the Easter Bunny has a big family. Everyone helps him out. One bunny is making chocolate molds, another bunny is decorating the eggs, and yet another one is wrapping up all the chocolates. The three mice lend a hand as well.

But the chicken is sad. She has lost all her chicks. Where did they go?

This is not a banana.

Deep in the jungle, between the banana trees and the bamboo canes, five monkeys are fast asleep. The Easter Bunny climbs up along the trunk with a basket full of treats.

But oh dear!
Who's wriggling in the tree?
Is that a snake?
Are you guys a little scared too?

Two mice come running just in time. They use hairspray in the eyes of the scary snake, and she faints immediately. Snakes really can't stand hairspray!

The Easter Bunny can finally start delivering presents. He's hiding delicacies everywhere. And the chicken? She found her first chick. She's so happy!
But what's the mouse with the bowtie doing? Is he sprinkling washing powder in the bathtub?
